Instructions to Person Subject to Withholding

Generally, if you are a foreign person that disposes of real property located in the U.S., 10% of the amount realized must be withheld by the buyer or other transferee. Certain foreign interest holders that are partners, beneficiaries, or shareholders are also subject to the withholding. Even though tax may have been withheld, you are required to file a Form 1040NR, 1041, or 1120F, to report the sale or other disposition as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. To receive credit for any Federal income tax withheld shown in Box 2, attach Form 8288-A to your Federal income tax return; or send it with any request for refund. Use the number shown in the box titled "Identification number of foreign person subject to withholding" when filing a tax return or requesting a refund. If you did not have a number, the one shown has been furnished by the Internal Revenue Service. See Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, for more information about filing requirements.

If the amount shown in Box 2 is greater than your maximum tax liability, you may apply for an early refund before filing your tax return. To do so, you must also apply for a withholding certificate (if you do not already have one). Send your application for early refund to the Director, Foreign Operations District, 1325 K St., N.W., Washington, DC 20225. No particular form is required for the application, but it must include the following information in separate paragraphs numbered as shown below:

- (1) Your name, address, and identification number (the one shown on this form in the box titled "Identification number of foreign person subject to withholding"),
- (2) The amount required to be withheld as stated in the withholding certificate issued by IRS,
- (3) The amount withheld, shown in Box 2 (attach a copy of this Form 8288-A),
 - (4) The amount to be refunded.

See Temporary Regulations section 1.1445-3T(b) for information about how to request a withholding certificate.
